SCOTTSDALE MAN SENTENCED IN TUCSON ON CHILD PORNOGRAPHY CHARGES

TUCSON, Ariz.– Daniel Lewis Kinney, 24, of Scottsdale, Ariz. was sentenced here on Monday, June 19, 2006 by U.S. District Judge David C. Bury to 28 months in prison to be followed by 10 years of supervised release with a number of conditions including a requirement that Kinney register as a sex offender. Kinney pleaded guilty on August 9, 2005, to Possession of Child Pornography.

Authorities were alerted that a computer account which Kinney had been using had been used to distribute child pornography through “peer-to-peer” communications. The possession charges stemmed from the recovery of child pornography from a computer and computer disks seized upon the execution of a federal search warrant on October 29, 2004. A forensic review of the computer and computer disks seized on that day resulted in the recovery of hundreds of images and movies depicting children engaged in sexually explicit conduct, including children under the age of 12.

The investigation preceding the indictment was conducted by U.S. Immigrations and Customs Enforcement. The prosecution is being handled by Judson T. Mihok, Assistant U.S. Attorney, District of Arizona, Tucson, Ariz.
